

Crane Composites Prepares for Key Industry and Customer Events

February 22, 2023

Crane Composites is preparing for a productive year with numerous tradeshow events. These events are essential to building relationships with key players, showcasing our product offerings, and connecting with end users of our products.

Our Recreational Vehicle sales team kicked off the year at the Florida RV SuperShow and connected with peers and customers while hearing from key leaders on the health and outlook of the industry.

Our Building Products team is preparing for various events. In March, Crane Composites will attend two industry events including the largest US wall and ceiling industry event - BUILD (formerly INTEX) Construction Expo and EXPO ANTAD – the top retail platform in Latin America bringing together key influencers in Food Industry. During March and April six key customer events will be attended including a bi-annual event with Do It Best showcasing our Sequentia product line, four distributor events that provide opportunities to present on our Food Processing initiative, and an event that focuses on our specification with Subway.

Our Transportation team will attend two major industry events for truck bodies and truck trailers and one customer event. The industry events - Technology & Maintenance Council Exhibition and The Work Truck Industry – will feature new displays focus on showcasing our value propositions on our translucent roofs and composite walls.

Information on the events is available on our website under the news section at <https://cranecomposites.com/home/crane-news/>
